Introduction

The Cheadle and Marple College Network Corporation and Senior Management are committed to publishing information, within particular classes of information as prescribed within the Freedom of Information Act 2000 in relation to the public sector. The Freedom of Information Act 2000 promotes greater openness and accountability across public sector organisations requiring all “public authorities” to proactively make information available via a Publication Scheme

Note:

Public authorities are defined in the Act and include universities, further and higher education colleges and sixth form colleges.

From January 2009 there has been one approved model scheme which must be adopted by public authorities in order to promote consistency across the sector. However, in order to recognise the diversity in size and function of organisations a number of optional classes of information are included. As a result, models within the sector may vary slightly.

A Publication Scheme should specify:

- Classes of information which the public authority publishes or intends to publish
- How and in what format the information will be published
- Any charges that apply to receive published information

The Cheadle and Marple College Network has adopted the model publication scheme developed for the sixth form sector.

Who we are:

The Cheadle and Marple College Network is a Further Education College in the North West of England, which is a body incorporated by statute. The C&M College Network has two campuses in the area, offering a broad range of provision which is responding to local and individual needs in areas of learning funded The Education Funding Agency (EFA) and Skills Funding Agency (SFA).

The C&M College Network also works with a variety of partners and has strong links with local secondary schools, sixth form colleges, local employers and Universities.

Accessing information covered by the Publication Scheme:

The classes of information we publish are described in the second part of the Publication Scheme.

For each classification of information, we have indicated the manner in which the information described will be available. We have also indicated whether charges apply to material in each class. To request information available through our Publication Scheme, contact:

Please note: The Publication Scheme relates to “published information”, therefore material specified has already been prepared in a format for distribution.

Information not covered by the Publication Scheme:

As of January 2005 you have the right, under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, to request any information held by a public authority which has not already been made available through a publication scheme.

Requests should be made in writing and, in general, public authorities have 20 working days to respond. A fee may be charged, which will be calculated according to Fees Regulations. Public authorities are not required to release information to which an exemption in the Freedom of Information Act 2000 legitimately applies. However, public authorities may be required to explain to the applicant why they are not releasing information and they may also have to justify this to the Information Commissioner.

Feedback and Complaints Procedure

It is important the Publication Scheme meets your needs. Should you find the Publication Scheme difficult to understand, please feed this back to us, we also welcome suggestions as to how our Publication Scheme could be improved.

Any questions, comments or complaints regarding the Publication Scheme should be forwarded in writing to:
